LOCAL BIDDERS AFTER BIG NAVAL MAGAZINE WORK

Local contracting firms will have another chance to draw down some of Uncle Sam's good money that has been set aside for the improvement of Pearl Harbor. On December 21 next, bids for the naval magazine that is to contain the ammunition supply of the great naval base will be opened in Washington, and it is understood that the firms heretofore identified with Pearl Harbor construction will take a hand in the figuring.

The magazine, which will be located on Kuahua Island, is the last of the permanent buildings which go to make up the finished naval plant, and $90,000 is available for the work. Altogether $135,000 is carried in the appropriation for this feature, but the balance is to be used for a landing wharf, and for the construction of roadways, sewage and lighting systems, etc.

The magazine does not consist of a single building, containing the various departments under one roof, but of five separate and distinct houses of reinforced concrete. By this plan the departments are segregated, and there is also less danger from explosion and fire. The houses are known as the primer house, magazine, loaded shell house, fixed ammunition house, and high explosive house.

The time for opening bids has been postponed so as to give Honolulu firms a chance to figure and submit their proposals to Washington, where they will be considered by the Bureau of Yards and Docks.

The other Pearl Harbor buildings, now in course of construction, are going along smoothly, and all will probably be finished on contract time.

WOMAN'S SOCIETY IN MEETING TUESDAY

The Woman's Society of Central Union Church met at the Church parlors Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. Frank C. Atherton. The devotional part of the morning was conducted by Mrs. W. A. Bowen, who read from Matthew and John and then offered prayer.

The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were then read by Miss Benedict. The treasurer read a report. A report was heard also from Mrs. Henry Williams, who is a delegate from the Woman's Society to the Associated Charities. Mrs. Williams asked that $5.00, the annual membership fee be contributed by the Woman's Society as the Association is in need of the money. It was voted that the membership fee be paid.

Another interesting report was that of the Educational branch of the Woman's Society. Each year the sum of five hundred dollars is placed in the hands of this committee for the purpose of aiding girls whose home surroundings are not pleasant. These girls are removed from undesirable districts and placed in the Kawaiahae Seminary. Teachers there say that in every case the girls prove to be bright and intelligent and give promise of becoming splendid women. At the conclusion of the report Dr. Scudder addressed the ladies and told of one special case where a girl had been placed in the Seminary. The young woman's parents cared nothing about her welfare and had her bringing up been left to them she would never have had an opportunity to make anything of her self. She is now doing well, however, and gives promise of becoming a powerful woman.

Mrs. Elizabeth Waterhouse then spoke of the need in this city for a home for children who are deficient mentally. She cited two cases where girls who are unable to learn have been allowed to drift into deplorable conditions by their parents. She said that these two came under her personal observation and that she had no doubt that similar cases are known by others. The Woman's Society took no action in this for they seemed to feel that with such short notice nothing definite could be done.

The most important business function conducted was the discussion of the removal of one article from the by laws and amending of another. These articles referred to the quarterly meetings of the Woman's Society. Last year there were very few attendants at the regular quarterly meetings previous to the time of the introduction of the basket lunch. The executive committee therefore thought that it might be wise to eliminate the morning meetings and conduct the business at the afternoon socials.

There was some discussion and it was finally decided that no change be made, as many new comers take advantage of the little social hour to become acquainted with the church members.

At twelve o'clock the meeting was adjourned and a basket lunch was served in the Parish House.
